

A black and white illustration of a soldier on horseback, holding a whip, standing over a fallen figure. The scene is set outdoors with trees in the background. The soldier is wearing a uniform with a plumed helmet and is holding a whip in his right hand. The fallen figure is lying on the ground, and there are other figures in the background, some of whom appear to be wounded or dead. The illustration is framed by a simple border.

Page 1 of 1