217 March 14 the last

My dear Eugénie

I received your letter from dear old Boston.
I had feared, I am glad you had given up philosophy. This is in fact the wisest thing you could do at the moment. However you doubtless have not completely made up your mind. I am sure you will soon be glad to run your old shoes over on Coleridge and the Jack and Jemima business. I am sure you thoroughly know your Boswell.

Yours, C. D. Johnson
